

United Nations and peace operations

Andreu Solà-Martín
Tom Woodhouse

PID_00177861

UOC teaching material

Andreu Solà-Martín

Master of Arts in Peace and Development Studies, Limerick University. PhD, Doctorate in Peace Studies, Centre for Conflict Resolution, Department of Peace Studies, University of Bradford. Teaching fellow, Department of Political Science and International Studies, University of Birmingham. Honorary research fellow, Department of Peace Studies, University of Bradford. Lecturer of International Politics, University of Manchester. Long-term observer EU Election Observation Missions.

Tom Woodhouse

Professor Woodhouse has worked in the Department of Peace Studies since 1974, when he was appointed as research assistant to Professor Adam Curle. He developed the first conflict resolution teaching and research activities in the department in the mid 1980s and, in 1990, he initiated the Centre for Conflict Resolution, serving as the founding director of the Centre between 1990 and 2000. In March 1999, he was appointed to a personal chair and took the title of Professor of Conflict Resolution (Adam Curle Chair). Recent publications include Contemporary Conflict Resolution, Polity Press, (with Oliver Ramsbotham and Hugh Miall). He has published extensively on peace and conflict research and on the relationship between peacekeeping and conflict resolution.

The assignment and creation of this teaching material have been coordinated by the lecturer: Eduard Vinyamata Camp (2011)

First edition: October 2011
 © Andreu Solà-Martín, Tom Woodhouse
 All rights are reserved
 © of this edition, FUOC, 2011
 Av. Tibidabo, 39-43, 08035 Barcelona
 Design: Manel Andreu
 Publishing: Eureka Media, SL

The texts and images contained in this publication are subject -except where indicated to the contrary- to an Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs license (BY-NC-ND) v.3.0 Spain by Creative Commons. You may copy, publicly distribute and transfer them as long as the author and source are credited (FUOC. Fundació para la Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (Open University of Catalonia Foundation)), neither the work itself nor derived works may be used for commercial gain. The full terms of the license can be viewed at <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/legalcode>

Contents

Module 1

The United Nations, armed conflict and peacekeeping

Andreu Solà-Martín and Tom Woodhouse

1. First-generation peacekeeping. Early United Nations peacekeeping missions 1947-1988
2. Second-generation peacekeeping
3. Third-generation peacekeeping. Peace support operations
4. Towards fourth-generation peacekeeping. Peacekeeping, conflict resolution and cosmopolitanism

